James L. Camp, Jr. Family YMCA Merger Complete

James L. Camp, Jr. Family YMCA to join the YMCA of South Hampton Roads

Franklin – After year-long discussions, the James L. Camp, Jr. Family YMCA of Franklin will merge with the YMCA of South Hampton Roads on July 1, 2009, in order to enhance services in both communities. Sharing similar missions and visions, both organizations have a long and rich heritage of serving their communities.

Since 1970, the James L. Camp, Jr. Family YMCA has provided literally thousands of opportunities for children and families to build healthy relationships through health, recreation and fellowship programs. This tradition of service will continue and be enhanced as our organizations jointly share the benefits of a network of family centers focused on its members and their communities.

Serving the Tidewater area since 1895, the YMCA of South Hampton Roads is the 9th largest membership YMCA in the country. With 13 family centers and eight specialized facilities, our service area stretches from the Eastern Shore of Virginia, to the Outer Banks of North Carolina. The merger will allow members of both organizations to utilize the facilities and resources throughout its service area.
